In gratitude for the sacrifices that he has made for us, we, the members of the Class of 1971, are proud to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Duane W. Kuhl. Somehow he always managed to see the bright side of everything--from catastrophic science experiments to riotous Junior Class meetings. He freely gave his time and his knowledge, so that we, in turn, might make some contribution to mankind.

Only a year ago twenty-one doubtful juniors were wondering how they were ever going to make enough money to go on a class trip. Their worries were unjustified, though, because those juniors ended up their senior year with money to spare.

As freshmen they ran the coat and hat check at basketball games, and throughout their sophomore and junior years they worked hard on bake sales, candy sales, and anything else that would help them pick up a few dollars. Yet, at the end of their junior year, they found their treasury balance to be quite low, as a result of the prom that they had sponsored for the Class of 1970.

Throughout grade school and high school years, different teachers had remarked, "This class will never make it as an organized, productive group." Fortunately, the members of the Class of '71 proved them wrong, and also proved to themselves that they could succeed. The class members worked hard mowing grass at the Zion Cemetery during the summer following their junior year, and at last their financial worries were over.

With just a few projects, such as a teen dance, concessions at basketball games, and selling senior candy bars, they had earned enough money to sit back and really enjoy their final year at EHS.

HOW

ITS

The Elizabeth Community Fair has long been a source of enjoyment for Elizabeth High School students. This year, however, it appeared that spirits might be dampened by moisture.

But, the parade went on, despite rain, and people seemed to enjoy it. The Senior Class participated by running through a car, painted with slogans, and a manure spreader with the slogan, "Seniors Spread Joy Wherever They Go!"

The Elizabeth High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Sadt, marched in their new uniforms, which looked very sharp. Many students also rode horses or drove farm equipment in the parade.

Later, everyone headed for the fair grounds, because the sun was shining through. The dunking booth was a big attraction, especially when two Elizabeth faculty members, Mr. Burgett and Mr. Speer, volunteered to be dunked.

Sunday brought more rain, and the final-day activities were all but stopped. In the evening, however, a rock group, Friendship Incorporated, provided entertainment.

In spite of the rain, a good time was had by all who attended the 1970 Elizabeth Community Fair. Many students are looking forward to next year--and hoping for better weather!

"Oliver! . . . Oliver! . . ."

"One Boy—Boy for Sale!"

Friday and Saturday nights, March 19 and 20, 1971, the back-streets of London, England, were brought to the stage of the Elizabeth High School gymnasium as students presented their second-annual musical production. The show was "Oliver!", based on the novel, "Oliver Twist," by Charles Dickens.

It was cold with freezing drizzle in Elizabeth on opening night, and there was worry that the bad weather would discourage people from attending. At 8 o'clock the curtain opened to the strains of "Food, Glorious Food," while outside the dreary night continued. But inside, more than 600 people had turned out, and the warmth of the story of Oliver Twist quickly captured the hearts of all of them.

Most people in the audience had come to last year's successful production of "Oklahoma!" and were hoping that this show would be even better.

"He's Going Cheap!"

"Consider Yourself Well In!"

"It's a Fine Life!"

Leading the 59-member cast to a most memorable performance in singing "Where Is Love?" brought a tear to many eyes.

"... Fine Life!"

Although Mr. Bumble-the-Beadle (Jack Rife) threatened to pinch the curvaceous Widow Corney (Diane Ellinor), the were married before she had a chance to scream. Jack was so costume, his own father did not know him!
And the widow sent the audience into reels of laughter
every time she moved.

"That's How It Goes!"

During the song-filled finale, the young actors received a standing ovation from appreciative audiences both nights. This year's production topped "Oklahoma!" in attendance--about 1,150 people attended "Oliver!", 50 more than last year's record total. And advance ticket sales alone paid all the show's expenses.

More than just a Senior or Junior Class play, "Oliver!" included the talents and efforts of a whole high school, brought together in working toward one common goal. This high degree of participation is perhaps the show's biggest achievement.

In "Reviewing the Situation," Elizabeth High presented two well-polished performances of "Oliver!", which were received with warmth by two more than generous audiences.

Future Farmers of America— “Learning To Do, Doing To Learn,”

Robert Bernard, vocational agriculture teacher at EHS since 1964, was cited as the 1970 County Conservation Teacher of the Year.

“Earning to Live, Living to Serve” --the motto of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) is well-followed by EHS chapter members.

The activities of the organization this year were selling seeds, running a pop machine in the ag shop, holding an assembly on the environment, and establishing and displaying a corn population wheel at the Albert Holland farm.

The FFA was very active in judging contests. Bob Haun topped the individual scoring at the Livestock

Judging Contest held at Rockton, Illinois.

The chapter also sent Donald Dittmar to Kansas City, Missouri, to participate in the chorus at the National FFA Convention held in October. The chorus was made up of 101 members from 36 states. To qualify, Donald went to the Illinois State Convention to sing in the state chorus. There he was chosen to be one of five members from Illinois to sing in the national chorus.

uture Homemakers of America—

Toward New Horizons" . . . "Lighting the Way"

"This motto is a challenge. It reminds members that their contributions to home and community life today will influence the kind of homes they have tomorrow, and that the family life of members will influence the community and the world."

Members of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) attended the fall rally held at Dakota, Illinois, sponsored a roller skating party; and organized the Christmas caroling party in cooperation with the FFA boys.

Money-making projects included a bake sale-rummage sale. Monthly meetings featured such topics of interest as a makeup demonstration presented by a representative of the Capri Cosmetology School of Dubuque.

The purpose of FHA is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living. Members work toward making good homes for their families. Interest toward economic careers and related occupations is encouraged.

Evie Smuck, EHS senior, was named Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. The annual award is presented by General Mills for performance in a written examination.

Speech Club—

Vicki Tippet Competes at Sectional

Speech Club, which began only last year, is a growing organization with great expectations for the future.

At district speech contest held February 13 at Freeport, Vicki Tippet, a freshman, placed second in final rounds; her category was a comedy reading.

Other EHS students participating in the contest were Lon Francomb, oratorical declamation, fifth in round two; Beth Hein, original oration, sixth in round two; Roger Appleby, extemporaneous speaking, fifth in the final round; Cynthia Arnold, original monologue, fourth in round one; and Mary Jo Francomb, verse reading, sixth in round one.

Members of Speech Club, with their coach, Mr. French, accompanied Vicki Tippet to the sectional speech contest held February 27 at East Moline. Although Vicki did not place in this competition, she is the first EHS student to qualify for sectional.

What, a Yearbook Without an Editor?

"Traditionally the yearbook is headed by a senior editor, but due to a lack of interest on the part of the members of the Senior class, the 1971 TERRAPIN has been largely the work of underclassmen. No editor-in-chief was named.

"Sales this year were at a record high of 185 books, and advertising also set a new record high.

"Kathleen Albrecht, Kathy Alt-filisch, Marcia Atz, Chris Chapin, Donald Dittmar, Peggy Haun, Nancy Philpot, Cheryl Potter, Jack Rife, Joan Thiltgen, Marleen Trader, Judy Wand, and Denise

Wilson are among the many students who worked on the Terp Staff. My special thanks also to the editors pictured on this page."

"I believe these boys deserve special recognition and praise for representing EHS. Their dedication to the game of basketball should pay off in the future. It was rewarding to me to have worked with this group of young men. The next few years should be promising ones for the Elizabeth Terapins."

One of the main events of the year was a field trip to the Chicago Field Zoo. Then, after a short vacation, a Learning Festival was held, and about $100.00 was raised to be added to a fund for the purchase of new curtains for the grade's classroom.

At the second homecoming dance held April 21, 1971, the winners were both boys and girls. The winners of the evening were the eighth grade (pictured lower right).

Other activities included the Art Fair (lower left) arranged by art teacher and Peter and

Epilogue

by
Jerry Murray

The time is early evening, and the sun's begun to set.
Its rays of knowledge have flashed brilliantly,
Outstanding, in the deep, vast darkness of ignorance.
So long have they labored and toiled,
Striving for direction, for meaning, for a future.

The hours and days were long and tedious;
Sometimes eagerly, often hesitatingly, their minds absorbed the light.
The prodding and coaxing, the bantering and bargaining--
All have merged to lift the shadow from their minds.
Someday, in a fleeting moment of memory, the past will return to the present.

The sun will soon set, but the light shall remain.
Old Mother Time will wash all memories from their minds;
But the rays of knowledge, if nurtured, will neither wither nor die.
From this font of life, there will spring
A bright, new sunrise, lighting the way for a bright, new day.
